Regulations for Reproducing Materials

1. Reproduction of materials is subject to the discretion of the University of Miami Libraries whether the reproduction is made by the Libraries or by the individual with his or her own photography. When reproductions are requested, the size, condition, and donor restrictions of all materials are evaluated. Requests for reproductions may be denied if such work would damage the materials to be reproduced or infringe on other restrictions.
2. Only a single reproduction of each page or part of the material described in the application will be made with a limit of 20 copies per visitor per day. The Libraries reserve the right to limit the number of items to be reproduced or to decline to make a reproduction of any particular item with or without cause.
3. The applicant agrees to pay a fee for the Libraries' service in making reproductions according to the Fee Schedule. Reasonable care will be taken to provide the best possible copies, but the Libraries are not responsible for the quality of the reproduction.
4. Copies of materials reproduced by the Libraries may not be placed in any other library, archives, or similar repository without prior permission of the University of Miami Libraries and of any other person or persons, institution or institutions whose consent the law requires.
5. Reproductions shall be used by the applicant solely for research, teaching, or learning purposes. The copies requested are for the sole and personal use of the applicant, who agrees not to transfer them to others, further reproduce them, publish any part of them or allow their use by other researchers or scholars without express written prior consent of the University of Miami Libraries and other person or persons, institution or institutions whose consent the law requires. Please refer to the University of Miami Libraries Fee Schedule and Licensing Application Form for additional information.
6. The applicant expressly assumes all responsibility for observing applicable laws of copyright, literary property, and libel and covenants and agrees to exonerate, indemnify, and hold the University of Miami and its Trustees harmless for and on account of any and all loss, cost, damage or expense arising out of or in any way connected with the uses which the signer makes or suffers or permits to be made of the materials identified on the Reproduction Request Form on the reverse.

It is the patron's obligation to determine and satisfy copyright or other use restrictions when reproducing materials from the University of Miami Libraries' special collections units.

In addition to copyright, some materials presented in these collections may be subject to the terms of gift or purchase agreements, donor restrictions, publicity rights, privacy rights, licensing and trademarks.

When reproductions are requested, these conditions, the size, and the condition of all materials are evaluated. Requests for reproductions may be denied if such work would damage the materials to be copied or infringe on other restrictions. The Libraries reserve the right to limit the number of items to be reproduced or to decline to make a reproduction of any particular item with or without cause.

Personal, Research, Teaching, and Learning Use

- Reproductions (PDF scans or photocopies) in black and white or color are available for personal, research, teaching, and learning use. Users are allowed a maximum of 20 copies a day per person.
